WOMAN'S WORLD.

A REGAL ENTERTAINMENT AT A MILLIONAIRE MANSION.

A Character at the Capital—The Broadway Girl—Miss Howard and the Indians—The Mother's Responsibility—Interesting Items About the Better Half.

Mrs. Vanderbilt gave a supper and ball in honor of two granddaughters—Miss Edith Shepard, the daughter of Elliott F. Shepard, and Miss Sloane, the daughter of the head of the famous carpet house on Broadway. The Vanderbilts' houses take up a whole avenue block, and are made to look like two houses connected by a Siamese joint, which appears to serve as an entrance to both. However, they are not two houses, but three. The lower or down town half is Mrs. Vanderbilt's house, and the upper half is two houses, the homes of the Shepards and Sloanes. These houses were all thrown into one the other night, and 500 persons assembled in some of the rooms of the first floor.

Tables were set in many rooms, and the guests, who came in such numbers that Fifth Avenue was blocked for an hour, all found chairs and tables, food and wine in plenty, and served as promptly as if it had been a hotel. At least 100 waiters attended the gentlemen and ladies and two orchestras played for their delectation upon at least 100 instruments. The tables were set in the connected parlors of the three houses, and the dancing which followed was enjoyed in the picture galleries. No such magnificent appointments as were seen there are to be found in any house—except a king's palace—anywhere else in Christendom.

The tessellated floors, the frescoed ceilings, the draperies, the bric-a-brac, the pictures, the service upon the tables—all were the very best, most costly and most elaborate that can be imagined. One might say in a sentence that nothing of less value than gold was upon the tables. There were parts of the houses that were bunked with flowers, so that the guests seemed at times to enter magnificent gardens, some that were tropical and some that were formed of the blossoms of our own midsummer. The women of fashion were ablaze with diamonds and costly gems, and their toilets were such as no man can describe.—Cor. Providence Journal.

A Character at the Capital.

"The Climber" is the sobriquet applied to a woman who is trying very hard to make out that she belongs to the foam of the swim. Her principal claim to position is a mythical bank account that is industriously rumored, and her attempts to force the inner gates, if they were not so palpable and amusing, would be disgusting.

So far as can be found out she is never invited anywhere, and certainly not to the White House, yet she always appears at every reception and calmly takes up a position back of the line among the invited guests who have been asked to the Blue room.

She pursued the same course straight through last year and went everywhere without invitation. This winter a new tack has been adopted. An hour or two before the tea, reception or whatever she elects to go to, she sends a note to the prospective hostess regretting that her invitation has not reached its destination safely, but as she knows, of course, it was sent and must have gone astray, she is coming anyway. Of course she hasn't been invited, and of course she does appear, and what can the hostess do?

On another occasion, at a card reception to the president, she informed a representative of the wife that the lady for whom she was waiting had not arrived.

"Could I accompany you down stairs?" she asked.

The woman made no answer, but "The Climber" and her husband followed the silent congressional pair down stairs past the surprised hostess. When the congressman and his wife started to go "The Climber" swooped down on them, exclaiming that as she came with them she knew she ought to leave at the same time, but she was enjoying herself so much that she would remain, if the congressman's wife wouldn't feel hurt at her defection. The only thing the congressman's wife cared about was escaping, and she never said a word.

"The Climber" has a fine suite of apartments at a fine hotel. She wears extravagant gowns, but they arrive by express marked C. O. D. They never remain on their arrival. There is some scurrying for funds for the next few days, and finally some of the gowns are located permanently in "The Climber's" wardrobe. Her career is exciting more interest than anything else.—Washington Letter.

The Broadway Girl.

She is a distinctive type of womanhood, is the Broadway girl. She dresses in the top notch of fashion. She carries herself with a swing as she moves along. She wears a jaunty hat, a little too much jewelry and uses paint and powder in a reckless way. You can see her any and every afternoon as she takes her walk abroad. She is usually young, light hearted and frivolous, and the chances are her mother does not know where she is. Men stare at her, and she, poor, foolish thing, takes it for compliment to her beauty. Very soon she becomes conspicuous and then a trifle more independent in her ways. And just here she makes a mistake, for men begin to talk about her and oggle her until some kind friend tells her that a daily parade on Broadway is unbecoming.

It is no longer considered proper for young women to be seen too often on Broadway of an afternoon, and sensible girls appreciate this. Fashion has set its face against the Broadway parade, and fashion is all powerful. And for what reason? Simply because there are too many bejeweled and painted women there already, and because men often forget that they are men, and stare at an oggle passer by, not to mention other forms of annoyance. The wise girl is not seen too often on Broadway of an afternoon.—Poster Coates in New York Mail and Express.

Miss Howard's Work Among the Indians.

Miss Grace Howard, daughter of Joseph Howard, Jr., of New York, is in Washington in the interests of her Indian children's home, near Chamberlain, S. D. Miss Howard went out to Dakota five years ago, and with money earned by herself, together with that donated by her family and friends, built the school she now occupies, having become interested in the work through her connection with the Hampton (Va.) school. Miss Howard said:

"Schools are the one thing near sure for the Indians. In my school I have twenty-two children, for whom the government allows an appropriation of $2,000 a year. The children are of the Sioux tribe. They are very apt, advance rapidly in the work and are quite capable. When my school opened this year I had to turn away a large number for lack of room. I am working for a regular training school that will accommodate all who come. There are sixty at Crow Creek reservation and 100 at Brule who ought to be provided with school facilities.

"The Indians work like white people when you give them an object. At my school I have one teacher, a matron, two servants and Indian helpers, both about the house and on the farm. Do I run a farm? Most assuredly, and a good one, too, on which we raised enough last year to keep us until spring."—Washington Letter.

Jean Nelson won the first place in the oratorical contest at the De Panu university, which has 1,200 students. She is the only woman who has attained this distinction and she is but nineteen years old. Her subject was "Industrial Freedom."

Miss Kate Miner, one of the vice presidents of the board of lady managers, is planning to exhibit a creole kitchen at the World's fair. Miss Miner and her brother own and manage a sugar plantation of 5,000 acres.

NEVADA STATE JOURNAL. FRIDAY, APRIL 8, 1892.

FREE TRADE AND PROTECTION.

The University of Pennsylvania, one of the oldest educational institutions of the country, is shaken from foundation to dome on the tariff question. Rev. Robert Ellis Thompson, Professor of History and Political Economy in the University, teaches the theory of protection in political economy. This is at variance with the ideas of Professor Wharton of the School of Finance who teaches free trade. The Provost of the University asked for the resignation of Thompson and six other members of the faculty, but all save two of the professors refused to resign. What the outcome will be cannot yet be ascertained.

It is a little strange, to say the least, that nearly all the professors of political economy teach the doctrine of free trade, the only exception being Professor Thompson of Princeton College, and his name sake of the University of Pennsylvania. Theoretically free trade is reasonable and logical. It means the exchange of commodities between nations, States and individuals, without hindrance. For instance, the United States produces wheat and cotton, which foreign countries want cheaper than those countries, and we exchange those articles which we want and which foreign countries produce cheaper than we can. Practically, however, under our present revenue system, free trade is out of the question. So long as we have to raise over two hundred millions of dollars annually at the custom houses, to help defray the expenses of the Government, free trade is impossible. Every intelligent person knows this, but politicians think they make political capital and deceive the people by asserting the contrary. The main difference between the Democrats and Republicans on the question is as to the articles that shall be made dutiable and the amount of duty that shall be imposed. Only a few persons advocate free trade, and they of course, favor direct taxation for government purposes. The Republicans put raw sugar, hides and several other articles on the free list, and increased the duty on other imports. The Democrats, or at least the Cleveland ring of that party, advocate free wool, free binding twine and free cotton ties, and a readjustment of the duties on other articles. The whole question is one of party policy and not principle. Every lover of fair play will see the injustice of encouraging an industry for years by a high tariff and then at a moment's warning abolishing that tariff and probably crippling financially every person engaged in the business. On the other hand lovers of justice object to creating monopolies and enriching a few at the expense of the masses by placing an unreasonably high tariff on articles of general use.

THE RHODE ISLAND ELECTION.

Complete returns from the Rhode Island election show that Brewster (Republican) is elected Governor by a plurality of 2,091 over Wardwell (Democrat) and a majority over all of 221. The vote was the heaviest by several thousand ever polled in the State. The election was hotly contested, Cleveland, McKinley and others of less note having participated in the campaign. The Legislature is to elect a successor to Aldrich, who is a millionaire and a candidate for re-election, so that Western methods were doubtless introduced in the campaign, as the Australian Ballot law has not been introduced in the State.

The great manufacturing cities of Providence and Woonsocket gave the Democratic State ticket majorities, as did also the city of Newport indicating a change in political sentiment but the smaller towns gave Republican majorities.

In 1888 Harrison's majority in the State was 4,438, but in 1891, Davies (Democrat) had a plurality of 1,250 for Governor, but as it requires a majority of all the votes cast to elect, Ladd, the Republican candidate was chosen Governor by the Legislature.

It would be interesting to know what the Democrats gained in Rhode Island by abandoning free coinage and advocating free wool. Perhaps Gold-bug Harter or the Great Grover Cleveland can tell. Cleveland, who spoke from the stump in Rhode Island last week, antagonized every free coinage Democrat by his opposition to silver when President. He made a specialty of free wool and went into the campaign on that issue four years ago, and lost. Now his worshippers abandon silver to its fate again, and repeat the mistake of 1888. The Rhode Island election proves that free wool will not win New England for Cleveland, and his opposition to silver will lose him every Western State.

If the Democracy does not wish to do the wrong thing at the right time they will consider Cleveland out of the Presidential fight, pass a free coinage bill, nominate Flower, Hill, or some man who is not pronounced against silver, for President and put him on a free coinage platform.

"ALL FOR OUR COUNTRY"

The people of Dayton are in arms on the silver question. As stated in yesterday's Journal, the citizens, irrespective of old party affiliations, have signed a pledge to stand together on a free coinage and irrigation platform. The Carson Tribune says the pledge is being extensively signed in Mason and Smith Valleys, and arrangements are being made for a grand demonstration Saturday night. Superintendent Roe of the dredging company is taking an active interest in the movement. He favors the adoption of the Colorado plan of standing squarely on the issues of free coinage and irrigation.

An address on this subject issued in Colorado is printed in the Journal. It has the true ring and will meet the approval of every body, save the professional politicians and their organs.

It is patriotic and pointed and should arouse the people of Nevada to action as it has those of Colorado.

News of Importance From Home and Abroad.

House Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Wilson of West Virginia closed the debate on the free wool bill. He said it was not his purpose to review in detail the already much debated provision of this bill. Neither was it his purpose to make a comparison of the conflicting systems of taxation, that were now struggling for mastery in the land. At the conclusion of Mr. Wilson's remarks he was warmly applauded and received the warm congratulations of his colleagues.

A vote was then taken on the bill and it was passed, yeas, 104; nays, 90.

Mr. Funston of Kansas rising to a question of privilege, sent to the Clerk's desk and had read an article published in the New York Voice, which for ten minutes kept the House in a whirlwind of laughter and merriment. The article mentions the names of a dozen or more Senators and an equal number of Representatives, who had been seen indulging in intoxicating liquors. Mr. Funston's name was one of those mentioned and he believed the article was intended to effect the primaries in his district, and denounced in unmeasured terms the correspondent of the Voice. Mr. Lewis of Mississippi suggested that the correspondent was a lady, and Funston said it made no difference whether she was a lady or a street walker, he was standing there in his own defense.

Wheeler of Alabama made a point of order at the gentleman should not use such language on the floor of the House.

The House then went into a Committee of the Whole with Blount of Georgia in the chair, on the Turner cotton bagging bill.

After a short debate the committee rose, and the House, after laying a resolution by Wheeler of Alabama, that the remarks of Funston be eliminated from the Record, on the table, adjourned.

Shot by a Tramp.

MARYSVILLE, Cal., April 7.—Henry B. Carley of Sacramento, a brakeman on the north-bound Portland express, was shot by a tramp in this city at 1 o'clock this morning. The train had stopped at the depot, when Carley saw a man enter the car and take a hat check from a sleeping passenger. He took the check from the tramp and returned it to the owner and then ejected the tramp from the car. The tramp lingered about the water tank for a short time and afterward clambered on top of the car. Carley had witnessed this and for the second time forced him to leave the train. This angered the fellow and he drew a pistol and fired two shots at Carley. The first shot did not take effect, but the second struck him in the abdomen near the navel. After a superficial examination the wound was pronounced fatal and Carley was taken to Sacramento. An arrest was made at Nelson, but the man proved an alibi.

Senate Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Mr. Enloe offered an amendment to the district bill appropriating $75,000 for the reception and entertainment of the next encampment of the G. A. R. in Washington, one-half the amount to be paid from the treasury and the other half from the revenues of the District of Columbia, providing no part of the amount shall be available until $6,000 shall have been raised by popular subscription and expended.

The wool bill was laid before the Senate by the Vice President and was referred to the Finance Committee.

The Senate after a short executive session adjourned.

Refuses to Sanction the Modus Vivendi.

TORONTO, April 7.—The Empire, the chief Government organ, in an editorial today on Newfoundland's stand, says: "A dispatch from St. John's, Newfoundland, conveys the important information that the legislation of the island is at the dictation of the Whiteway Ministry and by a strict party vote has refused to sanction the modus vivendi with Canada. If Newfoundland refuses to give British subjects the same right in British waters as those enjoyed and exercised by foreigners, then the time will soon come when the British power must enforce equality of rights."

Ship Canal Survey to be Made.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The House Committee on Railways and Canals today ordered a favorable report on the bill authorizing the Secretary of War to cause a survey to be made and an estimate to be furnished the cost of construction of a ship canal from the Great Lakes to navigable waters of the Hudson river of sufficient capacity to transport the tonnage of the lakes to the sea. The bill appropriates $10,000 to defray the expenses of a survey and estimates.

Endorse Harrison and McKinley.

PHOENIX, A. T., April 7.—The Republican Territorial Convention assembled in this city this afternoon. Col. Wm. Horning of Tombstone, Chairman, Acting Governor N. O. Murphy of Phoenix, W. N. Stewart and Wilcox were chosen delegates to the Republican National Convention at Minneapolis. The convention endorsed the administration of Harrison, the McKinley bill and the Territorial administration. Reference to Blaine brought out applause.

More Delegates For Cleveland.

TORONTO, April 7.—With the approach of the date for holding the Democratic State Convention, at which will be nominated delegates to the Chicago Convention, it becomes apparent that there will be but an insignificant attempt to oppose the selection of a Cleveland delegation.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are some of the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently, it tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local symptoms removes the sympathetic effects of the disease, banishes the headache, and refreshes the tired mind. "I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla—took three bottles. It did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." GEORGE A. PAGE, Watertown, Mass.

BREVITIES.

Ex-Governor Adams is in town.
Bargains in garden hose at Lange & Schmitt's.

D. A. Bender was a passenger for below at night.

W. E. Shron of Virginia City spent yesterday in Reno.

Wanted good live boys to run as news agents. See advertisement.

Wanted a girl to do housework at Russ House. See advertisement.

Mrs. Lucas and family departed last night for Fresno to join Mr. Lucas.

Harry Warren of Winnemucca was in Reno yesterday on his way to Carson.

Two shares in the Orr water ditch to rent for the season. See advertisement.

Furnished and unfurnished rooms to let, also lodging rooms. See advertisement.

Lawn mowers, garden tools and paint and oils a specialty at Lange & Schmitt's.

Plumbing, tinning and pipe work done at the lowest possible prices by Lange & Schmitt.

Hon. T. B. Riskey came down from Carson last night and passed on to San Francisco.

Two good rooms, suitable for offices, four doors from Postoffice, for rent cheap. Inquire at JOURNAL office.

Miss Laura Hurd of Virginia City arrived per V. & T. last night on her way to Los Angeles in search of health.

Joe Roy of Reno has been bound over to await the action of the U. S. Grand Jury on a charge of selling liquor to Indians.

U. S. Marshal Moore arrived from Elko yesterday morning, having in charge two prisoners arrested for selling whiskey to Indians.

The call for the Democratic State Convention is published to-day. The primaries will be held May 14th and the convention May 26th.

The Carson Appeal says: "Johnny Jones' wife presented him with a pair of twins, weighing 8 1/2 pounds apiece. He wanted the flag run up on the Mint." Does a pair of twins mean four babies?

There will be Arbor Day exercises at the school house in Anderson district on the Virginia road to-day. George H. Peckham took a lot of trees from Connors' Nurseries to the school grounds to be planted to-day.

Rev. James H. N. Williams and wife are here visiting Dr. Patterson. Mrs. A. C. Kietler, a sister of Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Patterson, died at Cedarville a few days ago, but as the funeral took place yesterday they cannot attend it.

A Virginia City dispatch says Jose Salinas, a middle aged Mexican, was found lying unconscious on Taylor street with his head in a pool of blood, which had flowed from several wounds in his head. It is supposed that he was struck with an ax or slingshot. His assailants are unknown, but are supposed to be tramps in search of plunder.

Several of the young men of Reno were not changed last night that their names would not have known them. They have been endeavoring for a long time to raise mousetraps, and being unable to do so get desperate and purchased them from a man who was selling them on the street. They answered the purpose first-rate in lieu of something better.

Under the head of New To-day will be seen the advertisement of Drobnack & Arminco. They have reopened the Arcade saloon, and have stocked the bar with the finest of wines, liquors and cigars. There are fine rooms attached where those desiring to spend a sociable hour can do so. They are popular gentlemen and will no doubt receive a fair share of public patronage.

Attention is directed to the advertisement of Henry B. Rule, fire and life insurance and real estate agent. He has the agencies for the largest and oldest insurance companies in the world. He also buys and sells real estate on commission. Mr. Rule, who is well known in Reno as a business man, to require any encomiums, suffice it to say that he will faithfully and intelligently attend to all the business entrusted to him.

An Example Solved.

E. C. Sessions handed a JOURNAL reporter a solution to one of the examples given the postal applicants at the examination held Tuesday which gave some of the applicants considerable trouble.

Two trains are 625 miles apart. One train travels at the rate of 35 miles an hour and the other travels 1 mile in 1 1/2 minutes. How long will it be before they meet, and how far will each travel?

The train traveling at the rate of 1 mile in 1 1/2 minutes travels 40 miles an hour. The two trains travel 75 miles per hour. At that rate it will take the trains 8 hours and 20 minutes to travel 625 miles. By multiplying 40, the rate per hour of one train, by 8 1/2, the running time, gives 333 1/2 miles, the distance one train travels. By deducting this sum from 625 a remainder of 291 1/2 is given, the distance traveled by the other train, or by multiplying 35 by 8 1/2 will give the same result.

The Riverside Gallery

Is now open and ready for business. All kinds of photograph work will be promptly done and satisfaction guaranteed. Copying, enlarging, crayon, pastel, India ink, and oil portrait work done. Duplicate prints can be made from the negatives taken by Messrs. Rifenberg & Dowe and Messrs. Swisher & Bender. ap31w

THE ISSUES ON SILVER.

An Address to the Wealth Producing Millions—Common Interests Should Unite Against a Common Foe—Losses to Farmers as Well as Miners

The Colorado State Silver League, on behalf of an army of Colorado voters, sends greeting:

We have undertaken a great work in your behalf as well as in our own, and it is to secure year active co-operation in that work that we come to you with this earnest appeal. We have common interests, and those interests have a common foe. It is for the landable purpose of asserting and maintaining our rights that we are banded together. Will you not join us?

In consequence of our deliberate, cowardly blow, dealt by the hand of organized avarice, we have for years been groveling at the feet of insolent, unscrupulous money-changers, whose openly avowed purpose it has been and is to control and contract the world's volume of circulating money.

With that end in view was the demonization of silver accomplished. The four means which were used to accomplish that purpose are too well understood to require discussion here.

"THE DIABOLICAL EFFECTS OF THAT INFAMOUS SCHEME"

Have been felt by each one of us. To-day they are plainly visible on every hand, in the depreciated value of almost every commodity produced by the labor of human hands, and especially in the ruinous prices of wheat, cotton and silver, as well as in the constantly falling prices of agricultural lands, mines and labor. The distress and suffering which it has bred throughout the nation is beyond the power of the human mind to compute.

Year after year we have gone regularly to the polls and persistently fought each other, while working for the supremacy of one or the other of two great political parties instead of standing shoulder to shoulder to meet and resist the attacks of one common enemy. These parties, as they exist at present, deem the spoils of the office of paramount importance to the welfare of the people. They are maintained chiefly for the benefit of self-seeking politicians, whose most lofty ambition is paltry office. To attain that end they do not hesitate to persistently betray the interests of the people, whose aid they solicit, into the hands of the money power. They are partisans for revenue only. At the bidding of this same money power, they have placed the general Government on a level with the stock broker; they have rendered thousands of families homeless; they have changed the toiling debtor into a cringing mendicant, and from the ranks of honest labor they have recruited an army of tramps.

SYSTEMATIC ROBBERY.

If a traveler was ever robbed on the highway, then the silver miners of our country—loyal, patriotic citizens—are now being robbed by the general Government at the rate of $30,000,000 a year. If, then, the silver miners have just cause for complaint, what shall we say of the cotton raisers of the South, who lose more than four times that amount annually for the wheat growers of the North and West who year after year have bled from their earnings more than five times the annual loss of the silver miners? Figures grow bewildering.

But if the miners, planters and farmers have suffered a loss that the human mind cannot comprehend, what shall we say of the 2,000,000 idle laborers? Not less than twenty-four millions a week is the loss of the wage-earners, the producers of wealth.

In the face of these exasperating outrages, what use have we for political parties—so long as those parties are dominated by the people's unscrupulous foe?

The people have complained and their complaints have been met by answers; they have murmured and their murmurs have encountered derision.

We are now firmly convinced that further submission to these grievances is simply to bare our backs to the lash of insatiable greed. Yes, it would be to pursue a course unworthy of Americans, and unworthy of the manhood which we boast.

SILVER CLUBS

There are, at this time, in the State of Colorado upwards of forty non-partisan silver clubs, and the number is daily increasing. They have an aggregate of over 20,000 voters. Each member, upon joining, pledges himself in writing that until this question shall be settled, and silver restored to its rightful position in the money of the nation, he will vote for no candidate for any important position who is not fully committed to the remonetization of silver.

In addition to this, representatives of these various clubs assembled in the city of Denver on the 28th inst., and perfected the organization of a State Silver League. They also issued a call for a State Silver Convention, to assemble in this city on the 25th of April, prox—upon a basis of representation from the various county and local organizations.

This organization, however, asks no member to forsake his party affiliations until the forthcoming National Convention of his party shall have neglected or refused to comply with our request for the nomination of a free coinage candidate for the Presidency, on a free coinage platform.

With this end in view, we urge the most perfect county and precinct organization. We urge the most faithful and diligent attention to the primaries, to the end that the County and State Conventions may not be controlled by professional politicians. We urge that the delegations to the National Conventions shall be composed of the very best men that the respective parties in our State can produce—always giving due notice, however, that no candidate whom such National Convention shall nominate shall receive our support at the polls unless he shall unqualifiedly favor the full remonetization of silver, and shall stand squarely on a free coinage platform.

We further urge that Colorado delegations to the National Conventions shall make it a point to confer with the delegates from all of the other Western and Southern States—who should represent the wealth producers, instead of the money power—to join them in canons, to the end that they may act as a unit in making their demands and representing the sentiments of the voters of their respective States and Territories.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

And finally we urge upon each individual member of our organization to regard his written pledge as absolutely sacred, and to be faithfully redeemed at the polls in November next, even to the support of a third party candidate for the Presidency, should such a course be necessary.

CO-OPERATION NECESSARY.

Now, we come to you and respectfully, but earnestly, urge your hearty and prompt co-operation in this great work. We ask you to organize at once. Organize silver clubs in every city, town, village or mining camp—yes, in every neighborhood. Let county and State organizations follow immediately after. Organize at once, in order to do effective work at the primaries—both Republicans and Democrats—to the end that your voices may unite with ours and that our combined influence may be felt at both Minneapolis and Chicago. If the hitherto Republican States west of the Missouri river will but enter into this work with the same spirit that pervades the voters of Colorado, we will present a force at Minneapolis that will at least command respect. Remember that the vote of these States is absolutely necessary to the life of the party. Then, if the voters of the new South will, on their part, enter as heartily into the work, they can accomplish quite as much, if not more, at Chicago.

Only a few days since the commercial price of silver fell below 90 cents an ounce—the lowest price reached in the history of the world. From that point it has constantly and rapidly fallen until, at this writing, it is worth but eighty-five cents an ounce, and the finger of the oppressor still points downward.

For that reason miners are being closed; miners' wages are being reduced, and in many instances they are being discharged. Within the ranks of this class, then, the force of this appeal will be felt. But the business man will be brought to a realizing sense of the situation in a very short order. Business stagnation is inevitable. The farmer will plant and reap, but his crops will rot on his hands, or be sold at a price far below the cost of production. More laborers will be out of employment.

Now, look around you and judge for yourselves whether or not this appeal is timely.

Politicians tell you that "the tariff is the leading issue." The tariff—like the poor—is always with us. We assert that silver is the issue. Fully forty millions of the American people demand its immediate remonetization.

Shall we continue to act at cross purposes, or shall we join hands for the common good?

By order of the State Executive Committee.

Dental Notice.

To THE PUBLIC: Having sold my dental practice, office and furniture in the Downing building, Reno, to Dr. David W. Ralison, I withdraw from the business, recommending him to all my patients, many friends and to the public generally as a very superior workman, and also a perfect gentleman. The doctor was formerly with me and had charge of my former practice in Reno during my absence in Philadelphia the past winter. He studied under me and has graduated from the University of California and the College of Dentistry in the Dr. H. H. Toland Medical College in San Francisco, and is one of those who graduated at the head of his class. I leave Reno to resume the practice of dentistry in San Francisco, knowing that I have left a good representative in my place. I am yours very respectfully,

MAYO A. GREENLAW, D. D. S.

Reno, April 7, 1892.

Notice.

To THE PUBLIC: Having bought Dr. Mayo A. Greenlaw's dental practice and office in Reno, I beg leave to call your attention to my professional card found elsewhere in these columns and respectfully solicit a further continuance of your patronage. I also wish, as it is the right and privilege of all graduates, to inform you of the positive fact that I am the only graduate in dentistry practicing in Reno, and will guarantee to do nothing but first-class work. Very respectfully yours,

DAVID W. RALISON, D. D. S.

Reno, Nev., April 7, 1892.

The World Enriched.

The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system: gently in the Spring time or, in fact, at any time and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

Eyes and Ears Open.

And you will see and hear many things to your advantage. With open eyes you cannot fail to see the advertisement of Simmons' Liver Regulator, and with ears open you will constantly hear of the relief it gives millions who suffer with indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation or biliousness. A dose now and then and you'll not know anything about malaria, that miserable, tired-out feeling.

Hon. B. H. Greenhalge of Smoky Valley, has some corn of an early variety that he would like to send to any and every one wishing to use the same as seed.
